Keyboard Programme in Schools

Dear Parents,

A keyboard programme is available at your school either during school hours or after school. The benefits of this programme can be of enormous value to your child. Beyond the obvious musical expertise, your child will gain greater concentration, reading and hand-eye co-ordination skills that will extend to other areas of the core curriculum. Research has proven that children learning keyboard significantly improved their own performance in subjects such as reading, writing and maths thus increasing their confidence and self-esteem.

The Programme is devised for small groups of no more than five children. In this way the needs of individuals can still be met whilst also making use of the many possibilities of playing music in a group setting. The group lessons also focuses more strongly on accurate rhythm using backing rhythms than traditional methods of learning keyboard.

Special advantages and features of this programme include:

- Experienced, highly qualified fully accredited VMTA (Victorian Music Teachers' Association) teacher
- Small groups of no more than five (often only four) children per teacher
- Low cost lessons at only $22.00 per week with a VIT registered teacher
- Each child plays their own keyboard during lessons
- Extra free music and worksheets provided from time to time to supplement the books used
- Use of your own headphones (with 6.5 mm adaptor) or other headphones for individual practice
- Private lessons are also available at $49 per half hour lesson ($490 per ten week term)
- Advice given on good keyboards (get a touch sensitive one at the very least).

More about the programme

The keyboard lessons will be conducted during school hours or after school depending upon availability and lessons are 30 minutes in duration. The keyboards have a variety of sounds and rhythms built in to make practice and performance more exciting. The children will play as a group all at the same time (as in an orchestra) and also have the opportunity for individual practice and attention by means of their headphones (which you will have to provide). The songs featured in the programme are drawn from classical, jazz, pop, TV shows, original songs, traditional children’s songs and folk songs. All material is designed to be used flexibly to allow easier playing styles as well as more extended and difficult versions. With additional daily practice at home this is an exciting way for your child to get involved in music using today’s methods and technology. Please keep this half of the form for your reference (i.e. send the bottom part to me) should you need to communicate with me. It has the conditions of enrolment that you agree to and my address and phone number.
